II. Capacity Reservation Election

In order to help you customize how you would like to be billed under the CPP-D rate, SDG&E provides you the option of reserving a specified level of capacity.

The capacity reservation option allows customers to self-select an amount of electric usage (in kilowatts) that they want to protect from the high price of electricity during a CPP event and pay for through a fixed monthly Capacity Reservation Charge (CRC). Complete this section to specify your capacity reservation election for each meter that is subject to CPP-D and associated with the above service address (Section I).

If you do not specify an amount or if SDG&E does not receive this form by at least five business days prior to your first regularly scheduled meter reading date after the new CPP rate takes effect, your capacity reservation will default to 50% of your most recent maximum summer on-peak demand.
